Pre-Operative Assessment

Is there a clinical concern for your health prior to surgery?

The aim of pre-operative assessment is to ensure that patients are fit for surgery and that you, the patient, understands the proposed procedure.

To identify and optimise any potential problems pre-operatively prior to hospital admission, an appointment with our 3fivetwo Consultant Anaesthetist can include the following:

- Consultation and patient history
- Physical examination
- 12 lead ECG
- Full Blood Count
- Clinical Chemistry

Further tests can be arranged as required:

- Echocardiogram
- Pulmonary function tests
- MRI coronary angiography
- Exercise stress test
- Chest x-ray
